

The above map was taken from Christopher Saxton's 1583 edition of the 'Atlas of England & Wales' which was first published in 1579.

It shows Codnor together with the castle and huge deer park surrounded by a fence or pale. The deer park was the second biggest park in Derbyshire (the Royal Peak Forest park near Castleton being the biggest).

Note the leaping deer just beneath the word Butterley.